Rules of Engagement, Volume 2 finds two of the world's leading improvisers performing at the height of their creative energies. This is the first duo recording by these two longtime musical partners in almost five years. The sparseness and intimacy of the duo context provides room for their music to breath with a clarity of purpose and vision rarely heard. The disc features Joe McPhee in a short monologue explaining his music… a treat never before heard on a recording. Also features beautiful interpretations of the traditional classic Amazing Grace (Dominic Duval's closing signature piece) along with an eloquent sophisticated version of B. Kaper's rarely heard classic, While My Lady Sleeps, first introduced to jazz audiences by John Coltrane.
